LIZ case study
02-18-2008

LIZ – The TPARC report for October 16, 2006 indicated that LIZ was trending down and that it was performing poorly. After a brief rally, that poor performance accelerated to the downside and the stock has suffered a major decline, losing well over 50% of its value in the decline. The stock has remained below the 45-degree Bearish Resistance Line during the trend down.
